

CP373 Department Policy

Winter CP373 has reserved seats for the following two groups of students:

1. Year-5 BBA/CS double-degree students;
2. CS and DS majors (all years who meet CP373 prerequisites).

If you are getting the "seats reserved" Loris error, it indicates that the seats, which were reserved for your target group, have been all taken.

Note: CP373 is normally offered twice a year, in two terms. Please also consider taking CP373 in the other term, which may be Spring. Spring registration will open at end of January, but you can check now if CP373 is offered in Spring in Browse Classes.

Subject to resources availability, the Department will attempt to increase the capacity limit of the CP373A section or open a new CP373 section.

Please keep monitoring CP373 on Loris for 3-4 weeks to see if seats or a new section become available. After that, if no seats are available in Winter CP373, you may communicate your override request via the CS Administrative Assistant pcs@wlu.ca and we will attempt to give you a capacity override in emergency cases only.

Why are seats reserved? For some courses, student's demand might exceed the course capacity and Department's resources. Therefore, the Department reserves seats for certain programs, majors, and Year Level(s).
